

EDUARD ZALOSHINJA AND IVAN LOLI

For a New Policy in the Conservation of Documents

Abstract

The article suggests measures to solve conservation problems of archival material in Albania. The first idea would be to reduce the amount by selecting only the most important material for archival storage. Secondly conservators, scientists and possibly other specialists should cooperate in finding preservation strategies. And finally the buildings housing the collections need to be properly adapted.